PROPOSAL INTERMAG 2024

The International Magnetics Conference (INTERMAG) 2024 is pleased to invite you to the main international conference addressing all aspects of fundamental and applied magnetism which will be held in person, in Rio de Janeiro - Brazil, from May 5 to 10, 2024.

The Intermag Conference is the premier annual conference on fundamental and applied magnetism sponsored by the IEEE Magnetics Society. Members of the international scientific and engineering communities interested in recent developments in magnetism and associated technologies are invited to attend and contribute to the conference.

The Intermag Conference has been in existence for more than sixty years and will take place for the first time in South America.

The conference program will include oral and poster presentations, invited talks, symposia, tutorials, and a number of special sessions.

Exhibition Hall:

Suppliers of instrumentation, materials, process tools and other products and services will showcase their releases to professionals in magnetism and associated technologies.

The exhibit will be in the 2nd lower level, at Americas Ballrooms adjacent to the Poster Sessions. The Exhibition Hall will also be the venue for the coffee break and Bierstube.
